

WEATHER BRIEFING

Saturday Night/Early Sunday: Heavy Snow Possible North

WEATHER BRIEFING

Sunday Into Monday

- * Temperatures Falling into the 20s Sunday Single Digits Sunday Night.
- * Subzero Wind Chills Developing
- * North Winds Gusting to 50+ MPH Near Lake Michigan and to 40 MPH Inland.
- * Considerable Blowing and Drifting/Whiteouts
- * Powdery Snow
- * Significant Accums Possible Lakeshore

Colder

Heavy Snow

Colder

2-4 Inches Sunday?

8+ Inches?

Heavy Snow

Summary

- Heavy Snow Possible North of I-96 Saturday Night into Sunday Morning. Widespread 6 or More Inches Possible.
- Heavy Lake Effect Developing Along the Lakeshore Sunday into Monday. Localized 8 or More Inches Possible.
- Arctic Air Arriving Sunday– Changing Wet Snow to Powdery Snow. Temperatures Falling to Single Digits Sunday Night.
- Blowing and Drifting Snow Developing Sunday into Monday with Sub Zero Wind Chills.
- Wind Gusts to 50+ MPH Along the Lake Michigan Shoreline Sunday into Monday– May cause power outages.
- Difficult Monday Morning Commute, Especially near Lake MI

<http://www.weather.gov/grr>

